

Contacting the County Council during the COVID-19 pandemic

This is a challenging time for us all and we are doing our best to maintain essential services.

Many organisations, businesses and volunteers have come together during this pandemic and continue to work hard to support our colleagues working on the front line, the vulnerable and those in need.

Information on essential services are published every day on the County Council's website:

www.anglesey.gov.uk/coronavirus

If you still need assistance, please call the emergency number:

01248 750057

We are here to help on important matters:

- Business finance
- Vulnerable CHILDREN and ADULTS
- Accessing the local community support system and Anglesey Food Bank
- Update you on the School care centres
- Council Tax and Revenue advice support
- Changes to Waste and Recycling collections
- Housing benefits concerns
- Support those who are extremely vulnerable (Shielding)

Follow the County Council on social media for updates
